WINTER OPENING

To amuse the Public. It will be a great expense to us—some $5,000—but what care we for expense so long as we amuse and benefit our customers?

We have this Fall done all the BUSINESS on STATE-ST.—more than all of the Dry Goods houses put TOGETHER.

Why did we do it? This question is EASILY ANSWERED. Because we retail goods at less than WHOLESALE PRICES, and the public know the truth of this statement by our crowded house and by our keeping two officers constantly on duty to keep the crowd from blockading the sidewalk.

Look at the SUNDAY PAPERS. They will explain Monday's Opening.

Did You Ever Hear of Canary Bird Dollies?

Well, you'll find a whole troupe of them, all dressed in gay colors, with little Tambourines and Mandolin, and while they sing and play they act up such funny capers and do just as Mme. Robinson tells them. Some are the Circus Clowns; others clad in soldiers' dress make a noise with drum and flags; then they take turns swinging each other, perform on the trapeze, all the latest circus tricks, walk a tight rope, do all manner of tricks, some so cute and clever that you remember that they are only little bird-feathered canary dressed specialties. The prettiest dolls come from Paris and we dressed just like little French girls. We also will have a full Paint Menagerie to which you'll see some of these little French girls, whether they be French Dolls, and they are really clever too. How much is a pair? Just as before you say, and that is the height of them and they [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Gov. Murray, of Utah, Has Decided Views on the Mormon Problem.

Senator Anthony Seriously Ill—A Gunman Saves Battle on Another Prisoner.

Capitulation of the Cigar-Box Bakers—Trunk of John D. Lesbe, a Millionaire—Execution.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—[Special.]—Governor Murray S. Anthony, of Black Island, the senior Senator in Congress, is seriously ill at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. He arrived in this city yesterday on his way to Washington to attend the opening of Congress. He was accompanied to the city and has friends. His views sent to the Governor's mansion. He generally attended to business in the best manner and went to the theatre to go to his room. Just after the latter had entered the elevator and as he was about to step in he went to the floor and was assisted into consciousness. Discovering suspicious that he had dropped any object from the hall, a guest who noticed the trouble first called the attention of the bell boy who was in the hotel, to the condition of the old gentleman suffering from a fit. Dr. Carr was summoned and found the latter in a comfortable condition, and due to his advanced years. Fearing the symptoms of paralysis, he ordered the patient removed to his room, where he is now resting easily. Governor Murray is a prominent Democrat, and has been a member of the Senate for many years. He is a native of Connecticut, and is a graduate of Yale College. He is a member of the Senate Committee on Finance, the Judiciary Committee, and the Committee on Pensions. He is a member of the Masonic fraternity, and has been a member of the Grand Lodge of the State of New York. He is a member of the Union League Club, the Manhattan Club, the Lotos Club, the Democratic Club, and the Reform Club. PERILS OF TRAVEL.

A Crowded Passenger-Car Dashed Over a Twenty-Foot Embankment.

Forty Persons Were Severely Injured, Several of Whom Will Probably Die.

Its Cause Assigned to the Terrible Anti-Sniper-Shoe Weeks Accompanied by Loss of Life.

A FRIGHTFUL LEAP.

A PASSENGER-CAR DASHED OVER AN EMBANKMENT.

WINCHESTER, Ohio, Nov. 28.—[Special.]—A shocking accident occurred near Bath Furnace station, on the Ohio, Ohio & Eastern Railroad, a passenger train running from Portsmouth to Parkersburg, this afternoon. A crowded passenger-coach left the rails, turned a complete somersault down a twenty-foot embankment, and landed on its side at the bottom. Out of the forty-five passengers in the car about forty were severely injured, and two or three will probably die. The train is known on the road as No. 3. It runs from Portsmouth to Parkersburg, and is due in this city at 5:45 p. m. In charge of a baggage-car, a smoker, and one passenger-coach, the latter an emigrant car of the modern type, drawn by engine No. 49, in charge of Conductor Jacob Gottlieb and Engineer George B. Partridge. The train was crowded with passengers, most of them on their way to spend Thanksgiving with friends here. The passengers on the ill-fated coach had many of the best half-fare tickets issued by the railroad company, which entitled them to a round trip at one fare. The coach was filled with men, women and children and great numbers were to be seen and children and great numbers were to be seen and children and great numbers were to be seen

THANKSGIVING-DAY.

Something About the History and Origin of the Day of Thanks.

How It Will Be Observed Today in Chicago—Services in the Churches.

When the governor-changer—citizens who dress in the best suits—leaves today, accompanied by the family and friends, and others by the thousand, the abundant supply of worldly goods with which the benevolent has been supplied, he will take but a passing thought upon the strange process of the day, and much the same as Christmas eve. While the adherents of the Pilgrim Church, which was raised from England in 1620 and sent a colony over to New England in the Mayflower in 1620, are not commemorating by an annual celebration the day of landing, thanksgiving has engendered for the descendants of the Pilgrims, or "Fleet of Napoleon," or the rest of the vast Occidental continent has not assumed in Europe, and will a day was observed in London, Holland, on the 28th, the first anniversary of the deliverance of that city from siege.

A NATIONAL HOLIDAY.

After the Revolutionary War broke out Thanksgiving had become a National holiday. It was annually recommended to Congress, and was, after the general thanksgiving for success in the fight was an National occasion, and with the other Presidents Washington, by a request of Congress, recommended such a day of thanks for the adoption of the Constitution. In some years, during the early history of the Republic, Congress would appoint a day of thanksgiving for victory in battle, and the President and Governors of the various States, and recently that fixed the last Thursday in November.

CHANGE IN DATES.

Thanksgiving Day will be generally observed in the city and all of the public offices will be closed. The Government Building will remain closed during the day. The Post-Office will close this morning at 8 o'clock, the afternoon and night mails going at that hour, and but one collection will be made. The other offices in the Northwest Department will be closed the same day.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1873.

Fair weather today.

Iron steel bridge will be pushed up.

Prisoners and Loring are still up trial in the Federal Court. There will be no session today.

Compositors throughout nation agreeable to Typographia, Pa., have agreed to strike if a reduction of their wages shall be attempted.

Gustavus Wilson, at a reception given to the officers of the Lower House of the Prussian Diet, expressed confidence in the maintenance of peace in Europe.

A band of Mormon robbers attacked the house of Father Miguel Vido, at Intercourse, Florida, killing the priest and his two servants, capturing his wife, and pillaging the house of everything of value.

Andrew Wilson, conservator of a small estate, upon being brought to book for his sympathies by the Probate Judge of his county, fainted away, and was taken home to quite a serious physical condition.

The arrest in Chicago of the Lost Award Diplomat, who day before yesterday, at St. Louis, betrayed Gen. Sherman, having in view a matrimonial alliance with the family of the Tecumseh, is given elsewhere.

Palmerston, who will be remembered as the saucily Prime Minister of Pumice who fell ill as soon as he got into office and fell out of office as soon as he got well, is now much talked of for a subordinate place in Perry's Ministry.

Jackson J. Nixon, who recently refused to be killed by W. A. Paddock, the ruffian husband of Nixon's sister, but who, on the other hand, at his own dooming, killed the reluctant husband, has been indicted for it by the grand jury.

The London police affect to believe that they have killed a plot against the Premier. A large bulk of stone was placed upon a railway track near Wolverhampton, and his car was due, it is asserted, to wreck a train on which Mr. Gladstone was expected to travel.

A telegraphic statement has been made that the Japanese Government is anxious to open the interior of the island to foreign trade, on the stipulation that since existing immunities of the privileges granted shall be under the jurisdiction of the Japanese courts.

The Government of the seceding Alleghenies has resolved at the meeting of representatives of the Iowa part railroads held in the city yesterday save that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul agreed to postpone its withdrawal until Jan. 1. Another conference will be held Dec. 15.

Francis Davis, a citizen of Chicago, has an action down the middle as a burglar breaks upon Wells. In furtherance of this honorable deliberation he has robbed him with sheriff Dolton of the burglar's implements, and let his face grow long and put criminal life into hobnails. This done Wells is solely eager to put that the contagion may not spread. But without intentional action the disease should be effectually extirpated.

Yesterday afternoon a car at the rear end of a passenger train on the Boston, Hoosac & Cartaret Railroad, near North Worcester, Mass., was precipitated over an embankment a distance of twenty feet. Of the sixty passengers in the car about forty were injured, several carrying fatal wounds. The cause of the accident is as yet a mystery, no satisfactory theories having been advanced.

Between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in the Village of St. Paris, O., and owing to the lack of facilities for extinguishing the flames almost all the business houses in the town were destroyed, entailing a loss of at least a quarter of a million of dollars. After the fire had burned all day a strong breeze through the town was detected, and the further spread of the flames was checked.

The New York Board of Railroad Commissioners denounces the whole system of pooling, and contemplates a complete reformation of the situation which the magnates have fixed upon. The decision is a highly important one, and follows the complaint of the New York Chamber of Commerce, concerning the well-known views of that body. The matter is fully treated in our railway columns this morning.

Samuel Bloom, in a letter to the editor of the Philadelphia Press, the text of which is printed in THE TRIBUNE simultaneously with its appearance in Philadelphia this morning, unfolds a scheme of alleged Federal and State taxation which he has long secretly upon, and the objections to which he is now fully prepared to hear. The outline of the plan is portrayed by a number of general and forcible observations. The National revenues, if subsidized, must be different, and eventually reduced. The subsidiaries and important question of race arising in the past which solution has been discussed has been whether that subsidies should benefit the people at large or the "school holders" which have so much the country. In the face of the past, however, Mr. Bloom declares that both protectionists and free-traders in great numbers now desire the abolition of the entire internal system of Federal taxation. Mr. Bloom believes that there will at once be an alliance of legislators in Congress who hold entirely opposite views on the subject of protection, but who will work together for free trade, tobacco, and other things which now afford internal revenue to the Government. But Mr. Bloom is not in favor of free trade. On the contrary, he denounces such a thing. He believes such tax should always exist, to be collected by the States and given to the States—for the States would of themselves be powerless to enforce such a law. The power to select should be paid to the States in the proportion of their population—that is, Illinois would pay the most and New York would get the most. The gist of Mr. Bloom's plan is, first, to find that the States can spare $70,000,000 of tax on whisky; then to pay this sum to the States, and thereby lift that amount of direct from farms, households, and shops. Mr. Bloom has figured the plan out and appends a table, the items of which show that under the apportionment of the $70,000,000 Illinois would get $5,000,000 and New York $6,000,000. Such is a brief sketch of the leading features of Mr. Bloom's scheme. Commend it especially for the keenest examination.

THANKSGIVING.

The anniversary of gratitude has come around again and will be celebrated in the country of families, assemblages in places of divine worship, and by those who have no families to invade and no heart to disorder according to their individual things. As both the Governor and the President have appointed the discharges of the day and the ministers have announced it from the pulpit, gratitude becomes a matter of duty on the one hand and patriotism on the other, and to this charitably adhere to be grateful should be set down as an impure lacking in religious and National duty.

There may be particulars who will urge that there is nothing to which to be thankful, and that for your presents an unbroken record of disasters, suffering, disease, crime, and general misfortunes. They will urge, what is very true—namely: that commercial matters have greatly increased over last year; that the railroads have killed more people; that taxation have wrecked their wrath more savagely than ever; that cereal have swept the seas and the great ideas with increased ferocity; that horrible catastrophes have occurred; that thousands of people have been killed by suffocation, floods, tidal waves, volcanic eruptions, and other explosions of forces; that fearful epidemics have ravaged the world; that crimes go unpunished; that wars and rumors of war are threatening on all hands; and in general that the decrees of man, the forces of Nature, and what they conveniently term the visitations of Providence, have been in league to make life as gruesome and the condition of man as overdrawn as possible. This is a favorite view of many men, especially of that class who are always ready to lay at the sufferings of humanity and the sensitive of the world at the threshold of an overruling Providence, when the truth is that the vast bulk of misfortunes is due to human carelessness, negligence, ignorance, and stupidity—to the neglect of the canons of inevitable law on the one hand and the failure to enforce law on the other. This class of philosophers, therefore, if they looked at the matter rightly, would be grateful that men are not more curious, negligent, ignorant, and stupid than they are, recognizing their capacities in these directions, and would set themselves to work, industriously and enthusiastically, to remedy the existing condition of things instead of wilfully shut it, charging it to Divine Providence, and refusing to be thankful; while, if they would stop to investigate things rationally, they might discover that these events are the incidental evils of a race, and that the world somewhere to advance not by years but by great cycles of time.

The larger part of the readers of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, however, will take the optimistic view of Thanksgiving, and will gather about their well-laden tables, extend cordial greetings to old friends and kindred, and make the day one of pleasure and hospitable entertainment to show their gratitude. There is every reason to be thankful. Good crops, plenty of money, low individual and trifling among the poor, a comfort increase in the methods and learning of charity, peace at home, a larger measure of prosperity, universal good health, accept facilities for general employment. Republican relative day fall, a discouraged and dispirited Democracy, the defeat of Ben Butler, the release of Susan Sharon so that he can have a Thanksgiving dinner will duly and the duly and by-by that fifth Congressman so to let general extravagance, pleasant weather, events, and of July people, above fall of pretty things and plenty of money to buy them, whereon below some prosperous and right-thinking people may be thankful. Let us all be thankful.

Thanksgiving Day is a day of rejoicing, and it is a day of feasting. Let every man, woman, and child in the country, from the President to the humblest citizen, from the Governor to the lowest convict in the State prison, from the millionaire to the beggar, from the most learned professor to the most ignorant boor, from the most virtuous to the most depraved, from the most religious to the most profane, from the most refined to the most vulgar, from the most cultivated to the most uncouth, from the most beautiful, high-toned and lady-like down to the most ugly, dirty, and slovenly, from the most polished gentleman to the most boorish clown, from the most elegant and fashionable lady to the most slatternly female, from the most pious to the most wicked, from the most temperate to the most drunken, from the most industrious to the most lazy, from the most honest to the most dishonest, from the most truthful to the most lying, from the most chaste to the most lewd, from the most benevolent to the most miserly, from the most law-abiding to the most criminal, from the most peaceful to the most quarrelsome, from the most orderly to the most disorderly, from the most cleanly to the most filthy, from the most refined to the most coarse, from the most polite to the most rude, from the most gentlemanly to the most ungentlemanly, from the most ladylike to the most unladylike, from the most elegant to the most inelegant, from the most handsome to the most ugly, from the most graceful to the most awkward, from the most agreeable to the most disagreeable, from the most sociable to the most unsociable, from the most companionable to the most uncompanionable, from the most entertaining to the most uninteresting, from the most instructive to the most uninstructive, from the most amusing to the most unamusing, from the most witty to the most unwitty, from the most humorous to the most unhumorous, from the most sensible to the most senseless, from the most intelligent to the most unintelligent, from the most learned to the most unlearned, from the most cultivated to the most uncultivated, from the most refined to the most unrefined, from the most polished to the most unpolished, from the most graceful to the most ungraceful

HOME AFFAIRS.

[Having been set apart at noon, Thursday, Nov. 29.—[Special Cable Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.]—The soldiers' monument of the Fenians to the memory of the soldiers of the Irish Republic who fell in battle in the cause of Ireland, was unveiled to-day at the request of the Fenian Brotherhood, in the presence of a large concourse of people. The ceremony was not the explanation that the Fenians had abandoned the idea of agitation in Ireland, because in relation to Ireland at his time of the anniversary of the new government of the party which is suspected will be elected at the banquet to Justice the 11th of October.

Alleged Dissension Among the Illinois Central Officials—Kibbie and Gault to Assist Adams.

Pooling Condemned by the New York Commissioners.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 28.—[Special.]—The Railroad Commissioners under instructions relative to the matter of the complaint of the Chamber of Commerce and others against the trunk lines of Virginia and others against the trunk lines of Virginia discriminations against the grain shipped to the West. The decision was written by Commissioner Wright, and contains the strongest opinion of the Commissioners against the whole system of pooling. It recommends a considerable reduction from the rates in force at present, and concludes with the following: "The foregoing conclusions are based upon the facts and circumstances of the case as presented in the testimony taken. The Commissioners are not unmindful of the fact that the railroads have been subjected to severe competition, and that the rates charged for the transportation of grain have been unsatisfactory to the shippers, but they are not disposed to attribute the whole of the blame for this condition of affairs to the railroad companies. The Commissioners are of the opinion that the adoption of the principle of pooling by railroad companies would be detrimental to the interests of the public, and that the remedy for the evils complained of must be sought in other directions. The Commissioners are also of the opinion that the adoption of the principle of pooling by railroad companies would be detrimental to the interests of the public, and that the remedy for the evils complained of must be sought in other directions. The Commissioners are also of the opinion that the adoption of the principle of pooling by railroad companies would be detrimental to the interests of the public, and that the remedy for the evils complained of must be sought in other directions."

The Iowa Pool on the Biggest Edge—What the St. Paul Threatened to Withdraw.

The General Managers and General Freight Agents of the roads in the Iowa Pool Association met yesterday at Commissioner Midgley's office for the purpose of discussing the situation and considering what is to be the immediate future of the pool until the meeting of the Board of Control on the 10th inst. There were present: C. J. Paine and S. F. Rutter, Burlington; Charles Hughitt and S. S. Stuart, Chicago & Northwestern; S. S. Hicks and W. H. Day, Rock Island; S. S. Merrill, Dubuque Office, and C. H. Dow, Minnesota & St. Paul; S. S. Stuart and George Sim, General Freight and Ticket Agents, respectively, and Messrs. Midgley and Johnson, Chicago Agents.

After the meeting had been called to order Commissioner Midgley stated that he had been requested by the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board of Control to ascertain from the members present whether or not they were willing to continue the pool for the present, and if not, what action they would take in the premises.

Mr. Stuart stated that the previous experience of the company was that it had not been profitable for the road to remain in the pool, and that the Chicago & Northwestern had withdrawn from the pool on that account. It was the intention of the company to withdraw from the pool unless the Chicago and Council Bluffs should be induced to put the passenger rate on the same basis, although the Minnesota & St. Paul was on the same plane throughout, and had been receiving about the same proportion of the business as the Chicago & Northwestern. The latter road had been unwilling to put the rate on the same basis as the Chicago and Council Bluffs, and the Minnesota & St. Paul was in the same position. The Chicago & Northwestern

IN GENERAL.

Post No. 90, G. A. R., gave its opening party for the season at the Palmer House last evening. Fully 200 people were present.

Mr. James M. Schofield was elected Captain and Mr. Robert W. Kohlhausen First Lieutenant of Company I, First Regiment, last evening.

Mr. J. E. Russell, proprietor of the plumbing and gas fitting house of Regina No. 11, presented each of the employes of the company yesterday with a large fat turkey.

Johnson Carroll, while temporarily stayed by an attack of neuralgia, jumped from the fourth story of the County Hospital landed in a heap of fresh dirt, and escaped with no other injuries than a broken leg.

Mr. C. C. Kohlsaat, the newly-appointed West Park Commissioner, yesterday took his oath of office and then his official bond with the County Clerk. The latter is for $50,000, with Charles Tuohy and John J. Fisher as sureties.

The temperature yesterday, as observed by Sigmund Spiegel, optician, No. 10 Madison street (Home Insurance Building), was as follows: 7 a. m., 32; 8 a. m., 32; 9 a. m., 32; 10 a. m., 32; 11 a. m., 32; 12 m., 32; 1 p. m., 32; 2 p. m., 32; 3 p. m., 32; 4 p. m., 32; 5 p. m., 32; 6 p. m., 32; 7 p. m., 32; 8 p. m., 32; 9 p. m., 32; 10 p. m., 32; 11 p. m., 32; 12 p. m., 32. Barometer, 8 a. m., 30.0 in.; 8 p. m., 30.0 in.

A committee of the Bar Association, consisting of Messrs. Peters and Hutson, reported yesterday the new system of drawing jurors recommended by Commissioner Reynolds. The report was a very thorough one, and referred to the minor amendments of the present laws.

"Drawing from or duty?" asked an elevator operator last night of the conductor of the Grand Pacific Hotel yesterday. "Loading," was the response. "I got twenty dozen corned and roast-beef sandwiches, and the speakers who were not speakers, and the speakers who were not speakers then, have already, the power of speech-built, who is still anxiously looking for the morning to-day."

John J. Healy, the Clerk of the Superior Court, yesterday filed his official bond in the sum of $15,000, with John S. Wade, Phil S. Gilpin and E. Lester Collins as sureties. It was approved by Judges Gaskill and Williamson, to the Bar's gratification, as it was under the law and they might refuse to give a new bond for that sum.

The testimony applied to the leg of the cow Queen Lenox, who was taken into custody by a constable until the claimant of possession, having answered according to the statutory form, with the proper bond, causing the animal's release, with the privilege of keeping her on the premises, and the payment of all charges, costs and fees which is one of all charges.

A meeting of members of St. Mary's Catholic Church Union was held at the Grand Pacific last night for the purpose of organizing a temperance society of the Union of Parishes. Twenty-six names were signed to the articles of incorporation, and the following elected as officers: Chief Templar, Richard Brennan; Recording Secretary, James Dolan; Financial Secretary, James Sullivan; Treasurer, Patrick Lavery.

The friends of Patrick Lavery, of No. 1010 Grand avenue, were last night making anxious inquiries at the police stations for news of him, but were not able to get any information. Lavery has been missing for several days, and on the night of August 31 was a guest of honor at a party given by his friends in celebration of his having successfully passed the civil service examination for the position of letter carrier. He left the house early that evening, and was not seen afterward by his friends.

The body of the woman found drowned Tuesday morning in an old trench at the foot of Eighty-second street was identified yesterday as that of Mrs. Ann Slattery, of No. 256 South Peoria street. Mrs. Slattery had been suffering from a disorder of the brain, and, during a period of mental aberration, left her home on Saturday night, and, it is supposed, committed suicide. The body was taken to the morgue.

The payer of the Knife Falls (Minn.) Lumber Company had by Chicago bankers was taken in custody by Deputy Sheriff Cooper, of Davenport, Ia., to whom it is said the payer of the company has been sold. If the title be true, it will take a court from the district of U. S. Minnesota to decide whether the assignment executed by the bankers of the company to their agent which the Sheriff obeyed is more valid than the one last executed.

The street improvements of this year have been so numerous and so extensive as to very nearly exhaust the contracts for the season's paving, the contracts for the season's paving all but completed with the exception of a few blocks of macadamizing. Contractors are now busily engaged in getting their plants under cover for the winter, and paving operations will soon be suspended until next spring. The work done this year has been of the most substantial character, and the streets are in excellent condition.
